

The Monumental Inscriptions
in the Parish Church of St Mary & St Nicolas,
Spalding

Third Edition - 2005

- The first edition was produced by Rosalyn Pursglove in 1984.
- The second edition (1994) by Rosalyn & Paul Pursglove, on behalf of the South Holland Family and Local History Group, included memorials revealed after alterations in the church and the removal of carpeting in the chancel. Some inscriptions were recorded in more detail than in the first edition. It also included enhancements from Monson's *Church Notes*¹ where inscriptions previously recorded had become badly worn.
- This third edition is principally a more accurate account and fuller indexation of inscriptions identified in the previous editions.

There are now two indexes: one is of those people commemorated individually or by family, of many of whom precise details are given; the other is of those killed during the World Wars, most of whom are identified simply by name(s).

Researchers may be able to discover more in local archives such as those of the Lincolnshire Archives Office² and Spalding Gentlemen's Society³ and in other publications about this church's history, as well as nationally in, for example, the National Archives⁴ which houses the records of war casualties.

In even the short period since the second edition many memorials have further deteriorated, in some cases to the point of illegibility, though all details known about them in the past are included in the interests of historical completeness. Alongside these are a number of stones which have undoubtedly borne text and in some cases also portraits or designs on brass but which are now irretrievably damaged or worn. A third group of stones obviously still bear text but it is now inaccessible, such as the stone beneath the step of the font. And of course there will very likely have been memorials now completely lost and even monuments, such as along the north wall of the Corpus Christi chapel, whose original state and identification can only be guessed at.

Set against this tale of steady deterioration and what it implies about human transience are firstly, the fact that there are other lasting 'memorials' around the church, some like windows displaying their often poignant dedication - see particularly the first window along the north wall - and others maybe less conspicuous but no less significant, and secondly the very fabric of the church building itself which bears eloquent though silent witness to the commitment of countless faithful people. It is written of Wren in St Paul's cathedral "If you seek his monument, look around you"; this is theirs.

William Thompson, Esquire, J.P., son of John and Ann Thompson, born 1732 died 1792. Mary his wife, only surviving child of John and Lydia Grundy, born 1743 deceased 1809.*

John Grundy was born in Market Bosworth, Leicestershire, in 1719. He moved to Spalding with his parents in 1739 when his father, also a John Grundy, was appointed agent to the Deeping Fen Adventurers. John Grundy assisted his father in his work in Deeping Fen and during this time he gained wide experience in applied mathematics and civil engineering. He began to take on projects of his own. One of his first was the construction of a sluice at Pinchbeck in 1739.

After his father died in 1748 John Grundy was appointed agent to the Deeping Fen Adventurers in his place. He also gradually accepted more and more commissions from outside the South Holland area, including work on the great lake at Grimsthorpe Castle for the 3rd Duke of Ancaster. He is also noted for his work on improvements on the River Witham, Louth Navigation, the grand sluice at Boston, the first dock in Hull and navigation and drainage schemes at Holderness, Swale and Driffield.

John Grundy was also a very successful businessman, having interests in both shipping and farming. He lived at the side of the river Welland in Spalding, owning a large estate comprising house, gardens, stables, warehouses, wood and coal yards, an oil mill, offices and brewhouse. He owned a sloop named 'The Good Intent' and a barge named 'Polly and Lydia' after his two daughters.

John Grundy married twice. His first wife was Lydia Knipe, daughter of a local clergyman. They had 14 children but only two survived, and Mrs. Grundy died in 1764. John Grundy's second wife was Mrs. Ann Maud, a widow from St. Neot's. John Grundy was a member of the Spalding Gentlemen's Society. He was also a founder member of the Society of Civil Engineers and he did much to bring professional repute to the job of Civil Engineer. He died in 1783.

John Grundy and his wife Lydia (née Knipe) are buried in the family vault within the church.

Lot Mael was a draper in Spalding, owning a property in the Market Place, next to the White Hart Inn. He was a very wealthy man: it is said that he gave each of his four daughters £10,000 on their wedding day. He also left provision in his will for six coats, six gowns and 40 shillings a year for the poor of Spalding. In a copy of Howgrave's Stamford Mercury dated 30 January 1734/5 there is a notice of the sale of Lot Mael's drapery business in the Market Place and the letting of the house "where here may be a very fair estate got."

Lot Mael married twice, the second time in 1738 to Mrs. Alice Ambler (see also no.12). She was the widow of Joshua Ambler of Gayton House (later Fairfax House then Holyrood House). This house used to stand at the side of the River Welland on the site of the present Social Services Offices (formerly the Town Hall) next to the Parish Church. Lot Mael later lived at a house called Wisteria Lodge on Double Street. He became a member of the Spalding Gentlemen's Society in 1724.

The Hobson Family were great benefactors in Spalding. They gave money towards the purchase of land and buildings, and two silver flagons and a bowl were left to the church as sacramental vessels. The family also left money to buy a house for the widows of the Ministers and Schoolmasters of Spalding.

John Hobson of Spalding was responsible for the building of the Town Hall, eventually finished after his death. This building stood in Hall Place, Spalding (on the site of the paved pedestrian area). He gave one fifth of the rents from the shops on the ground floor of the Town Hall to the Ministers of Spalding and four fifths to the Town Husbands for the poor of Spalding. The Hobson family lived at Gayton House (before the Amblers - see also no. 13).

This memorial is now virtually illegible; the account above of the text dates from some time ago. It is said that the young Walter died at Uppingham School where he was a pupil. His father Walter was perhaps the brother of Colonel Johnson, making Fairfax Johnson his elder brother- see no.16.

In 1730 he was appointed engineer to the Deeping Fen Adventurers and had many schemes for improving the drainage of the area. He started by building a great sluice on the Welland near Cowbit Wash. He also erected the sluice at the end of the old Vernatt's drain and other sluices at Surfleet, Pode Hole and Deeping Bank.

Elizabeth, his wife, died 21 Oct 1752 aged 30 years. Mary his second wife, died 21 Jan 1773 aged 45 years. Walter Maurice, son of the Revd. Maurice Johnson D.D. & Ann Elizabeth his wife died 10th Nov 1791 in his infancy. The Reverend Maurice Johnson, Clerk, AM, eldest son of the above was born 29th of March 1788 and died December 6th 1820. Frances, wife of the said Rev Maurice Johnson died the 6th July 1815 aged 28 years.*

Perhaps here is the best place to tell the story of the Johnson family of Ayscoughfee Hall, Spalding. In 1658 Sir John Walpole sold Ayscoughfee Hall to Mr John Johnson of Pinchbeck. The Hall passed to his son Francis who had three children: John, Jane and Isabella. After John and Isabella died Jane (see no.35) became sole heiress of her father when he died in 1685. In 1683 she had married Maurice Johnson (no memorial) of Spalding, and her husband became the first of six Maurice Johnsons to live at Ayscoughfee Hall in direct succession. The second Maurice Johnson (no memorial), son of Maurice and Jane, was the famous antiquary and founder of the Spalding Gentlemen's Society. He was also librarian of the Society of Antiquaries. He married Elizabeth Ambler of Gayton House, later Fairfax then Holyrood House, and they had 26 children, twelve of whom lived to maturity.

The eldest son of these was Colonel Maurice Johnson (1714-1793)(see also no.37). He was vividly described by John Byng, 5th Lord Torrington, in his description of his visit to Spalding in 1790.

The fourth Maurice Johnson was Reverend Maurice Johnson (1756-1834), incumbent of this church from 1782 until 1825 (see also no. 48). He married Ann Elizabeth Buckworth of Cley Hall in Spalding.

Their son, the fifth Maurice Johnson (1788-1820), was also a clergyman. His wife Frances died in 1815 after the birth of their son, the sixth Maurice Johnson.

This last Maurice Johnson (1815-1864) eventually moved his family away from Spalding, finally settling in Suffolk where he died. He married twice; a statue of his first wife Elizabeth can be seen in the church (see no. 33).

Eight hatchments associated with members of the Johnson family and some of its connections are displayed along the nave of the church. There is an account of them published separately and available in the church containing a genealogical tree which also refers to many of these people.

33 To the memory of Elizabeth Johnson, wife of Maurice Johnson, of Spalding, Esquire and Daughter of the Revd. Thos. Mills of Peterboro'. This monumental record is dedicated by her sorrowing husband.

To society an ornament, to her family and friends a blessing, a duteous daughter, a devoted wife and mother, in youth and beauty she passed away with full promise of every earthly enjoyment yet lived she for a better world, a bright example of Christian faith and Christian hope, triumphant over death. Thus her life, for others sake too brief, sufficed for her. Its holy work was done. What she was to sight, this marble form pourtrays, what her virtues were, is the sacred trust of memory.

She died Sept 25th 1843, in the 27th year of her age.

Elizabeth was the first wife of the sixth Maurice Johnson (see memorial No.32). They had one daughter Elizabeth Ann. (His second wife was to be Isabella Mary Swan; they had four daughters: Mary Isabella, Frances Alethea, Edith Millicent and Frances Maude)

A faithful priest, an upright magistrate, a loving husband, a true and helpful friend, he gave to God and the people of this his native county a life's work of great ability and leading influence in many spheres of public usefulness. That his genius for architecture was conspicuous and well employed, this church and others newly built or restored in his deanery, bear ample witness.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord. Even so saith the Spirit, for they rest from their Labours."

Canon Edward Moore was the son of the Revd. William Moore and his wife Anne Elizabeth. He married Elizabeth Sarah Stephenson in 1838. As indicated in the memorial inscription he took part in many town activities. For 31 years he was headmaster of the Grammar School. He was a magistrate and also served on many other committees like the Board of Guardians and Town Husbands, and was Commissioner of Sewers. He was instrumental in the provision of three other churches in the town: St John's, St Peter's and St Paul's, and also the restoration of this Parish Church. He and his wife are buried in the porch of the parish church at Weston.

Ann Elizabeth Moore was the wife of William Moore, D.D. She was the daughter of the Reverend Maurice Johnson. (see no.48). Her husband (see below) succeeded his father-in-law as incumbent of this church in 1825, when he retired. When William Moore died in 1866 his son Canon Edward Moore became Vicar of Spalding.

He was the third son of the Reverend Maurice Johnson (see no. 48). He and his wife Millicent had two children. One died in infancy; the second was Theophilus Maurice Stephen (see no 40). Theophilus Fairfax and his son were in their turns both well loved benefactors of Spalding. They lived at Holland House in Spalding.

Rene Mitchell was a surgeon in Spalding.

- 62 *INFANS BIEN HIC RESURGAT ELINOR UXOR PHI IOLLEY CUM DVOV
FILLIJS HIC*

A Memorial probably to Elinor wife of Philip Jolley. Philip Jolley was a surgeon in Spalding. He was buried in 1666.

63 Philip John Elinor and Philip Claydon Elinor

Possibly children or relatives of Philip and Elinor Jolley (see No.62 above). Once again the same Christian name has been used twice in the same family. As to the use of Elinor and Claydon, perhaps Philip Jolley's wife Elinor was a Claydon. In 1681 a Claydon Jolley, Gent, was fined by the churchwardens for not paying the church rate: £50. He too must have been a member of this family but was probably a dissenter. In the registers of 1637 is recorded the baptism of Claydon, the son of Philip Jolley Gent and his wife Elinor Claydon.

64 Here lie deposited the remains of the Revd Mr Sam.l Whiteing who was interr'd March the 24th 1757 Aged 48 years

The name appears clearly as 'Oldfeild' but is very probably a variant of 'Oldfield'. The inscription to Dame Margaret Oldfield is on a small brass plate upon the flagstone monument. The hole in the plate occurred when a chandelier fell. (see also no. 72)

67 Here lie interred the Remains of the Rev John Dinham 23 years Minister of this Parish. He was a truly pious and good Christian and an ornament to his sacred profession. [A most] tender and affectionate husband, A fond and indulgent father, A warm and [sincere] friend, And an universal lover of Mankind. Add to these virtues, he [was a polite] Scholar and [gentleman, an able and experienced magistrate, in which department he acted upwards of twenty years with the strictest conformity to justice]. He died the 20 April 1782 in the 57 year of his age.

[Four children died before him, viz John, Samuel, William and Harriet Jackson and nine survived him. Gresham Dinham the widdow and relect of the above John Dinham died the 17 December 1808, aged 76 years.]

70 In Memory of the Rev. Stephen Lyon near forty years minister of this place. A native of France of the city of Roan which place he left under the guardianship of his mother for the sake of the protestant religion there persecuted. He was an honour to his profession. the delight of every sensible man, a proficient in all liberal knowledge himself, and a great encourager of it in others, a true lover of the constitution of England as it was settled at the revolution, attached vehemently to no sect or party, an universal lover of Mankind. He died on the 4th of February 1747 aged 70 years.

Also in memory of Mrs. Grace Lyon his wife, the daughter of George Lynn Esq. of Southwick in Northamptonshire who in the constant exercise of every amiable qualitie was an ornament to her sex, a credit to her family and the joy of her husband. She died 16th of April 1747 aged 73.

Likewise in memory of two of their daughters Mary and Susanna who died young.

Reverend Stephen Lyon was of Huguenot ancestry; he was born in Rouen. He held another living in Kent. He was a founder member of the Spalding Gentlemen's Society and its president in 1713.

71 D.G.J. [JJ  1916 - 1997] 16th May 1982

This tile set below the high altar marks where the ashes are buried of both Canon Jakeman (D.G.J. - 1921-1982) and his wife (J.J. - 1916-1997)

72 Near this place lyeth the body of Dame Elizabeth Oldfeild, ye relict of Sir Anthony Oldfeild of this town Bart. & daughter of Sir Edward Gresham of Lympsfeild in ye county of Surrey Kt. She departed this life ye 22 day of Jan 1682/3 in ye 58th year of her age leaveing 2 sons and 2 daughters viz. Sir John, Anthony, Elizabeth & Mary, Wch said daughters erected this monument that so dear a mother and so good a lady may not be forgotten when they shall be dead that could tell her virtues. She was truely religious, just, chast, generous & charitable. Reader consider.

The Oldfield (Oldfeild) family were originally from Bingley in Yorkshire but came to Spalding at the end of the 16th Century. In 1609 Anthony Oldfield, a lawyer, purchased the living (the right to appoint clergy) of Spalding, but sold it soon after to the Hobsons of Gayton House (see no.17) and various other men who became feoffees. They in turn reserved the right of burial in the chancel to the Oldfield family. Both Anthony and his wife are buried there (see 66 and 66a) and several later Oldfields including Dame Elizabeth. She was the wife of Sir Anthony Oldfield of Spalding who is also buried in the chancel. Their daughter Mary married William Ambler of Spalding. (The Amblers lived at Gayton House next to Ayscoughfee Hall after the Hobsons. Elizabeth Ambler, a daughter of this family, married Maurice Johnson the Antiquary. (see notes on the Johnson family No.32))

73 This figure and the lamp before the high altar were given by parishioners and friends in grateful memory of Basil Gordon Nicholas, M.A.(Cantab) Vicar of Spalding 1920-1945, Canon of Lincoln, Rural Dean of West Elloe who entered into rest 23rd March 1945.

“In this year of victory, triumph and joy, let each one of us not fail to be the possessor of the greatest victory, triumph and joy the world has ever known.”
(his Easter message 1945)

75 In memory of Captain John Ingram late of the 56 regiment, who died August 23 1781 aged 65 years. Also Charles, his son, ensign in the same regiment who died at the Havannah, August 12 1762 aged 15 years.
Also George his son aged 6 years, and also George his son aged 8 years.
This monument was erected by Stephn Sanderson Ingram. Gent - his eldest son.

See also no.54 for mention of a Stephen Sanderson Ingram who was probably the eldest son who placed the memorial in this church. Note again the use of the same name for two children in the same family. See also no.51. These Sandersons could be members of the same family.

76 Beneath this monument are deposited the remains of John Richards, Esquire, who died August 10th 1773 aged 45 years.
Also near him lies the body of Judith Richards his widow (daughter of John and Ann Pulvertoft formerly of Peterborough in the county of Northampton) who died November 9th 1811 aged 81 years.

This John Richards is the son of Sir John Richards in no.77; it is recorded that he erected the stone inscribed in Latin to his father. He built Holland House on the High Street, later lived in by the Johnson family.

- 77 *H.S.E. Quod mortale fuit Johannis Richards Armigeri pii probi et experti, et Elizabethæ conjugis dilectæ piæ, castæ, et modestæ, Ille ex oculis sublatus die Octobris 30mo Anno Domini 1767 Aetatis suæ 69mo Hæc Septembris 6to Anno domini 1748 Aetatis suæ 47mo.
Johannes unicus filius et hæres grato animo impulsus parentibus optime de se meritis hoc marmor sacrum esse voluit*
- 78 A memorial to Innocent Rash who was a benefactor of the church. This inscription can be seen on a partial slab but not all the words are legible. Innocent Rash died 28th February 1675.
- 79 In memory of Robert Hourd who departed this life 25th March 1791, aged 54 years. Ann Hourd, relect of Robert Hourd died Feb 17th 1805, aged 73 years

- 81 Sacred to the memory of M. Ann Buckworth of S. Martin's Stamford Baron who died on the 14. of February 1814 aged 81 years. And M. Jane Buckworth of the same place who died on the 19. of February 1814 aged 80 years. The only daughters & surviving issue of Everard Buckworth of Spalding Esq. by Jane his wife eldest daughter and coheiress of Henry Pell formerly of Dembleby Esq., these ladies lived together from their infancy and were buried in Surfleet church the 28. of February 1814.

These sisters had lived together all their lives. Their father Everard was the son of Thomas Buckworth and his wife Elizabeth (see no. 85), who was one of the four daughters of Lot Mael (see no.13). They were actually buried at Surfleet but permission was gained from the incumbent of the time, the Reverend Maurice Johnson (see no.48), to place a plaque in Spalding church because he was married to a member of the Buckworth family.

- 82 *To the memory of Samuel Greaves Esq: late of Deeping St. James but formerly of this parish who died January 31st, 1822 aged 84 years.
Also Ann Mael Greaves, wife of the said Samuel Greaves died May 28th 1769 aged 32 years and of Ann their daughter who died an infant.*
- 83 Sacred to the memory of Richard Heald, Esquire. M.D. who died unmarried February 27th 1841 in the 64th year of his age born at Horncastle. He practised as a physician in this town during the space of 36 years and was not more distinguished for assiduity and skill in the exercise of his valuable profession than for benevolence and sympathy in every distress, which secured to him universal esteem while his life exhibited the fruits of sincere piety. He trusted for acceptance with God to the merits of his saviour. His mortal remains rest in his native place but from respect to the warm attachment of her beloved and last brother. To the friends and scenes of his professional life this tribute of sorrowing affection is here erected by his only surviving sister, Susannah Heald.
